CANON SEE IMPOSSIBLE

Achieve consistent color across

ALL YOUR PRINT PROCESSES

TOTAL COLOR MANAGEMENT PROFESSIONAL SERVICES CAN REDUCE WASTE AND INCREASE PRODUCTIVITY.

The print industry is faced with many challenges. For customers, producing reliable and consistent color output consumes a great deal of time and money. Canon Solutions America's G7[®] Experts can help customers reduce the costs associated with achieving and maintaining consistent color output using technical guidelines and specifications proven to build efficiencies, reduce costs, and drive revenue growth within the supply chain. Our G7 Experts can achieve this in a variety of customer print environments, including commercial print, in-plant CRD, or anywhere color consistency and repeatability is important.

Canon Solutions America developed a suite of Professional Services that helps our customers improve their color output and—if desired—become a G7 Qualified Print Provider. Our team of certified G7 Experts stands ready to collaborate with customers to implement improvements in their color workflow. By improving their color management processes, customers can lower their operational costs and improve efficiency. Total Color Management provides many benefits to customers. It can help you:

- Take advantage of more efficient proofing and production cycles.
- Reduce manual labor involved in color management.
- Reduce waste and rework.
- Increase productivity for improved profitability.

The Canon Solutions America G7 Expert is uniquely trained to help you achieve visual similarity across all your print processes. Proofers, printers, and presses all produce visually similar results throughout your color workflow. You can reduce cycle times, improve proofing, reduce waste, and improve productivity and profitability using G7 methodology to enhance your color workflow. The result is visible improvements in your color output, such as:

- Detailed saturated colors.
- Smoother gradations.
- Improved 3/4 tone print contrast.
- Improved highlight detail.
- Improved 1/4 tone rendering.
- Gray-balanced neutral imaging.

G7—the latest methodology for controlling a CMYK imaging process.

G7 is a comprehensive specification that produces a visually similar appearance between different imaging systems and different printing devices. It can ensure that your color output appears the same, regardless of which G7 MasterPrint Provider does the printing, when it's printed, or on what device it is printed.

The key advantages that the G7 specification brings to customers include:

- Color-accurate proof-to-proof runs.
- Consistent color output.
- Peace of mind that the finished output will match G7-compliant proofs.

Canon Solutions America also offers a G7 Master Qualification service, which helps guide your organization through the process of achieving G7 Master Printer Status.

Canon Solutions America's G7 experts can help you achieve the best possible output with your equipment and workflow.

Canon Solutions America's Total Color Management Professional Services are designed to help everyone achieve more consistency in their color output while saving time and money. By standardizing your color workflow, you can reduce the setup and proofing cycles on your print runs and increase your acceptance rate of jobs, whether they're first-run or reprints. You can offer your customers consistent color output, time and time again. It's better for color, and it's better for business.
